In Person: Intertransfers

KIT - Intertransfers Module

OVERVIEW

The 2010 intertransfers section covers the same concepts as the 2004 interviews, but it was revised to allow for greater flexibility in reporting gifts. Whereas in 2004 we asked in turn about transfers to and from parents, children, and anyone else, in this round we collected infromation on up to three largest transfers received and ten largest transfers given, ascertaining the respondent's relationship to the person every time. Unlike in 2004, where children and siblings were referenced by birth order, in the current wave they are identified by their position in the child and siblings rosters. Questions on inheritances are no longer sampled, but they only cover inheritances received since last interview.

The section begins with questions on two largest inheritances valued at $10,000 or more that were received since last interview. Basic information such as the value, date and relationship to the deceased was collected of everyone. If the inheritance came from a parent, respondents were additionally asked which, if any, of the siblings received more and for what reason.

Next come three rounds of questions on gifts received. For each gift, details such as the amount, relationship to the benefactor, purpose for the gift and time frame over which it was received were recorded. For transfers to and from grandchildren we ascertained information on which of the respondent's own children was that child's parent. It is worth mentioning that inheritances worth less than $10,000 are often reported here.

This is followed by ten rounds of questions on gifts or loans given. Much like for gifts received, the amount, relationship to the recipient, period of giving and purpose were obtained. Additionally, respondents stated whether it was a gift or a loan and were asked for the largest transfer whether the recipient could have borrowed that much elsewhere. If any of the gifts were made to children, we confirmed whether the gifts were divided equally. Finally, respondents with more than one child were asked about the intended distribution of inter vivos transfers among their children.

The section concludes with questions on charitable contributions over the past year.

Unfolding brackets followed questions asking for dollar amounts in this section. Associated with these items are four variables (identified by the eight characters of the variable name) detailing the information collected in the bracketing sequence. The character "b" is associated with a summary variable, "u" and "l" denote the upper and lower bounds and "e" indicates the entry point into the bracketing sequence. Upper bound of infinity is denoted by a special missing code - ".i" in Stata, "I" in SAS and system missing in ASCII datasets.

Unfortunately, due to instrument error some of the bracketing questions in this section were wrongly asked on PER YEAR basis. For example, the question read "Would it amount to less than $25,000 or more than $25,000 PER YEAR?" instead of "Would it amount to less than $25,000 or more than $25,000?" The bracketing outcomes for the affected items were mixed, largely depending on the interviewer's handling of the problem. In some cases the interviewers caught the mistake and did not read the PER YEAR part. In others respondents became confused by the PER YEAR framing, yielding unusable data. The WLS staff listened to the affected interviews and wiped out or corrected the bracketing information when necessary.

During the interview, interviewers had a chance to leave notes with additional information obtained from the respondents. The WLS staff reviewed and processed these notes using a standardized set of decision rules for each section. In many cases processing the notes resulted in changes to the coded responses which created inconsistencies in the skip pattern of the CASES instrument. While we put considerable effort into adjusting such discrepancies, we could not eliminate them all. Occasionally, notes indicated problematic cases due to the lack of specific information or, conversely, cases that contained extra information that was important enough to retain. In such instances we created a flag, identified by the character "f" and attached it to the variable name, for the affected variable.

Note: For many cases a participant's spouse or other family member was present during the interview. This sometimes resulted in the participant relying on the other person for help in answering some or many of the questions. At the end of each module the interviewer indicated the amount of help the participant received and who provided that help. That assessment is covered by codes 1 through 5. Additionally, a code of 7 indicates that the entire interview was administered to a proxy while a code of 6 indicates that this particular module was answered by a proxy but other modules were answered by the participant.

Note: If this module was administered via proxy or if the participant received help answering the questions in this module then the interviewer recorded the relationship of the proxy/helper to the participant. Although most participants relied on only one helper or proxy for the interview, some had more than one. Thus the value of the relationship code may vary across the modules.
