In Person: Household Roster

KHH Household Roster Module

OVERVIEW

With the exception of questions about household member limitations due to medical conditions, illnesses, or disabilities, the 2011 Household Roster Module solicits the same information from participants as its predecessor from the 2005 collection wave. New to the 2011 wave are questions about household type, ownership, and how any rent or other household fees are paid. Information about the participant's household was collected in the following manner:

> The participant's household type - whether a private residence or some other arrangement - was determined based on where their interview took place and/or their self-report. If the participant does not live in a private residence, they were asked how they pay for their accomodations.
> If the participant does live in a private residence, they were asked if anybody other than their spouse or cohabiting partner lives in their household. For each additional household member, the participant was asked to provide the individual's name, sex, birth date, relationship to them, and to indicate when they began living together.
> After this, the participant was asked whether they live in a house, apartment, or condo and whether their private residence is owned or rented. Regardless of their answers, they were subsequently asked whether each household member helps to pay the bills associated with living in the residence. They were also allowed to name up to three other people not living in the residence who help pay the bills. If such people were named, the participant was asked about the nature of their relationship. For participants living in an owned private residence, we additionally determined whether or not each household member has any ownership of it.

For information about the nature of the Household Roster Module and our household data at prior collection waves, please see Appendix D (cor511, cor876, and cor968). No new documentation about household data was added to the appendix for the 2011 collection wave.

BRIEF VARIABLE DESCRIPTIONS

Non-Rostered.

KE020HE-KE221HE:	Type of Residence Participant Lives In
KE022HE-KE024HE:	Source of Payments Made to Allow Participant to Live in Non-Private Residence

Rostered: the last two digits of each variable indicate which household member the relevant information pertains to. All rostered variables ending with "01" pertain to the participant, who is treated as the de facto first reported household member. Rostered variables ending with "02" pertain to the participant's co-residential spouse or cohabiting partner, if applicable. For participants without co-residential spouses or cohabiting partners, variables ending with "02" pertain to the first reported household member. Extending the example, variables ending with "06" pertain to either the 4th or 5th reported household member, depending on whether the participant has a co-residential spouse or cohabiting partner.

KE003__:	Survey Module from Which Information About Household Member was Obtained
KE004__:	Relationship of Household Member To the Participant
KE005__:	Age of Household Member

Note: For many cases a participant's spouse or other family member was present during the interview. This sometimes resulted in the participant relying on the other person for help in answering some or many of the questions. At the end of each module the interviewer indicated the amount of help the participant received and who provided that help. That assessment is covered by codes 1 through 5. Additionally, a code of 7 indicates that the entire interview was administered to a proxy while a code of 6 indicates that this particular module was answered by a proxy but other modules were answered by the participant.

Although most participants relied on only one helper or proxy for the interview, some had more than one. Thus the value of the relationship code may vary across the modules.

Personal (health) care or similar services are not contractually available on-site as part of the rental or ownership agreement (e.g. the lease, deed, or other living arrangement). Residences not considered "private" would include skilled nursing facilities (where paid care givers are available around the clock), assisted living centers (where care is available as needed), and group homes operated by religious orders. Participants living in such non-private residences were not asked about other members of their household in this module (see KE001HE).

Note: Since the participant is included in our count of household members, KE001HE must have a positive value. If the participant lives in a non-private residence (KE020HE = 2), they were not asked about household members and have a default value of "1" on KE001HE. All participants who live in private residences, on the other hand, were asked to report on all of their household members. In rare cases, the participant's private residence was mistakenly classified as non-private by the interviewer. When this occurred, the participant was not asked about members of their household and - as such - KE001HE merely reflects confirmed household members (at most, the participant and their co-residential spouse or cohabiting partner), not necessarily all household members. Please see KE020HE for more information on the distinction between private and non-private residences.
