

Sociology 995: Demography of Health and Aging Brown Bag Series

Schedule for Spring 2001

January 31

Alair MacLean, Steven Haas, & Kristen Springer
Regulation of Social Scientific Research on Human Subjects: Part One of Two or More

February 7

Robert M. Hauser, Randi Cartmill, Hsiang-Hui Daphne Kuo, & Hyunjoon Park
Regulation of Social Scientific Research on Human Subjects: Part Two of Two or More
(Lingua Franca, AAUP, National Commission on Bioethics, Institute of Medicine)

February 14

Molly Carnes, MD, Professor of Medicine, UW-Madison; Director, National Center of Excellence in Women's Health
Estrogen Therapy and the Development of Alzheimer's Disease

February 21

James Jaeger, Law School, University of Wisconsin-Madison
Elderlaw and Aging of the American Population

February 28

Professor Maureen Smith, Preventive Medicine and Population Health with special guest Professor Richard T. Campbell
University of Illinois, Chicago
Health Insurance Coverage, Access to Care, and Use of Services for Near-Elderly in the Wisconsin Longitudinal Study

March 5

David Feeny (Institute of Health Economics and University of Alberta)
Designing Preference-Based Summary Measures of Population Health Program in Population Health and Network for Health Policy Research

March 6

David Feeny (Institute of Health Economics and University of Alberta)
Applications of the Health Utilities Index Mark 3 (HUI3) System to Assessing Population Health Quality

March 23

Demography of Health and Aging intro for prospective new students
Overview of topic and summary of WLS P01 in progress

April 4

Karen Swallen
Life-long Effects of Childhood Experiences and Characteristics

April 11

James Raymo
Family Relations Across the Life Course

April 18

Richard J. Davidson

Biological Measures and Emotions (with Havens Center)

April 23

Rob Warren, Pascale Carayon, Peter Hoonakker, and Marla Haims

Work, Health, and Well-Being

April 23

Jeremy Freese, Bob Hauser, Dean Krahn, Debby Carr, Kristen Barry, and Fred Blow

The Aging Mind

April 24

Deborah Carr, Karin Kirchhoff, and Karen Holden

Social, Economic, and Psychological Contexts of Death and Widowhood