To Whom It May Concern,

Colby College is currently seeking applicants for a one-semester visiting position for the 2009 spring semester. This opening occurred as a result of a last-minute administrative appointment of one of our colleagues. We are interested in hiring an individual to teach one section of undergraduate econometrics and at least one section of intermediate macro theory.

I would greatly appreciate it if you could share this letter and the attached ad (which is also appearing in JOE) with any graduate students in your program and any other individuals who might be interested in such a position.

Sincerely,

David W. Findlay

C1 Econometric and Statistical Methods: General
E Macroeconomics and Monetary Economics

The Department of Economics invites applications for a one-semester visiting position at any level, beginning February 1, 2009. The successful applicant will teach one section of econometrics, one section of macroeconomic theory, and one other course. Candidates with completed Ph.D.s are preferred, but ABD applicants will be considered. Preference will be given to applicants with teaching experience in the desired fields. Please submit curriculum vitae, graduate transcript, three letters of recommendation, and official summaries of teaching evaluations. Please send all materials as hard copy. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Colby is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, committed to excellence through diversity, and strongly encourages applications and nominations of persons of color, women, and members of other under-represented groups.
