M. Giovanna Merli received a Ph.D. in Demography from the University of Pennsylvania. An Associate Professor of Sociology and affiliate of the Center for Demography and Ecology and the Center for East Asian Studies, Professor Merli's interests have been centered on the demography of China and Southeast Asia, fertility and population policies in Asia, and the global impact of HIV/AIDS. At Wisconsin, she teaches courses in demography, contemporary Chinese society and population and health issues in an international/comparative perspective.

Reception immediately follows lecture.
