rc001re-rc004re All 1993 respondents (N=8493)

rc041re-rc076re Complete marital history through the 1993 follow-up survey using data from 1975 and 1993 sources.

The variables for complete marital histories are primarily constructed using variables from both 1975 and 1993 data. Please read the sources of variables carefully!

If you want to use variables for number of children from current (1993) marriage, these variables were created in one of two ways.

If the respondents remained in their 1975 marriage and they were 1975 respondents, we used the new information obtained in 1993 to update the previous children's roster obtained in the 1975 survey.

For all other 1993 respondents (i.e., 1975 non-respondents and those not currently in the same marriage at that reported in 1975), the data on number of children was obtained solely in the 1993 survey.

Please read related appendices.

Note: RC041RE - RC076RE provide a complete marital history through the 1992 follow-up survey using data from 1975 and 1992 sources.

(1) The following variables for complete marital histories are primarily constructed using variables from both 1975 and 1992 data. Please read the sources of variables carefully!

(2) If you want to use variables for number of children from current (1992) marriage, these variables were created in one of two ways.

If the respondents remained in their 1975 marriage and they were 1975 respondents, we used the new information obtained in 1992 to update the previous children's roster obtained in the 1975 survey.

For all other 1992 respondents (i.e., 1975 non- respondents and those not currently in the same marriage at that reported in 1975), the data on number of children was obtained solely in the 1992 survey.

Please read Appendix C COR515A, COR429A, MEMO116A, COR474A, and COR514 - Marriage.
