

Sociology 647: Assignments for Panels - Summer, 2009

	Pro	Con
June 8 -- PANEL #1: Organized youth sports programs like Little League Baseball or youth soccer represent an unwise intrusion of adults into the play activities of children.	Nick Johnson Diane Less	Brian Bultman Zach Lambo Ashley Marsh
June 9 -- PANEL #2: "Winning isn't everything, it's the only thing."	Craig Johnson Tyler Obermueller O'Brien Schofield	Andy Allen Sara Goff
June 10 --PANEL #3: Schools and colleges should give as much emphasis and financial support to sports for girls and women as for boys and men - even if . . .	Letty Olivares	Xavier Harris Erik Prather
June 11 -- PANEL #4: Because of the intrusion of politics and personal favoritism in judging . . . the Olympic Games should consist only of Sports whose outcomes can be decided objectively . . .	Nina Banducci Trina Dusso	Emily Cheffins
June 15 - Panel #5: Big time college sports is a commercial entertainment enterprise and has no legitimate place on a college campus.	Zach Bearson Kim Brown Corey Clarke	Abbey Clarke Michael Davies Taylor Janczak
June 16 -- PANEL #6: Since college players in the revenue sports at Division 1-A schools are essentially professionals, like minor league baseball players, they should receive salaries	James Groce Dustin Sherer	Jordan Elsen Angela Keseley

